

Emergency situation

Published: 09.11.2020.

Many people think that in case of an airplane crash, all passengers will perish. However, this view is erroneous. Statistics shows that more than 70% of aircraft accidents may be survived. In turn, approximately 70% of passengers perish in accidents when the aircraft has stopped moving. This fact is due to late and ineffective evacuation from the aircraft, where one of the reasons is unserious attitude of passengers towards safety measures when on the aircraft.

In case of an accident, the best solution is to know the nearest exit, to be ready to follow instructions of the crew. During emergency evacuation, leave all your belongings in the airplane in order to leave the aircraft without hindrance.
